Make plaster masks

Have you ever tried making plaster masks? Haven't you? It's a great craft, but needs some instruction.

Instructions

Either work outside on the floor or cover the floor with plastic

||

Cut the plaster bandages into large and small pieces - best done in a cauldron/container

Ш

Proceed in partners:

Someone applies Nivea cream very well to their face (including eyebrows and at the hairline) - you can also cover the hairline and eyes with cling film for safety

The second person takes a plaster bandage piece, places it in a bowl filled with water and spreads the plaster bandage on their partner's face and so on (one plaster mask takes about 4 layers) Attention: leave nostrils and mouth free!!!!

When the face mark is dry, the person (under the mask) can try to make faces so that the mask slowly comes off.

Finished: Now you can let it dry for a short time and paint it.

If using gouche, I would paint it when it is completely dry (takes a few days to dry). With acrylic paint, this is not necessary.

See pic 3 and pic 4

When cleaning up, don't pour the gouche water into the sink (the gouche will settle and possibly clog the drain), better to pour it outside into the bushes.
