Who am I?

Age
From 10 years

Number of participants
Starting with 6 persons

Description
Choose a player, who will sit separately. The others think of a biblical character or a person known to everyone, write the name on a note and pin it to the back of the chosen player. The chosen player does not need to know what the note says.

The player will ask: "woman or man, rich or poor...?", and they answer "I don't know", but mime the answer (one of them).

The game continues until the player guesses the character whose name is on their back, at which point their place can be taken by someone else.
