Tailgaters

Items needed:

sashes or balloons

space, the more people the bigger number of people: from about 5, the more the better

Rules

Each player gets one (or more) tails each, they can be sashes hooked by the waistband of the pants hanging down the back so they are easy to reach for, or balloons attached to the ankles. The game is to take as many tails / puncture as many balloons as possible with your foot. By yourself without losing a tail. If you lose all the tails you are out of the game. The game is won by the person who collected as many tails as possible, or stayed last.(In the case of using sashes the former, balloons the latter)

When playing on the grass, balloons are eager to burst on their own, it is better to use sashes if possible.
