Fill the foreign basin

Materials needed

- strips for the field

-4 empty boxes

-4 water balloons

- Water pumps

- 3-4 cans filled with water

- 1 sponge per participant (larger than dishwashing sponge) can be cut from foam

Purpose of the Igara

Your team's lehenga to have the least liquid

Rules

Each participant starts the game with a dry sponge, in order to have the opportunity to get it wet they have to do different types of physical exercises.

For example :- 20 squats- 15 jumps- 10 sit-ups, etc.

After soaking their sponge the participants have to go to the bases of the other teams where their bunks are and squeeze their sponge there. Having the participants there can keep the legen without touching it, and also through the water balloons by throwing them at the opposite team. On the side of the field are the water pumps which the leaders use to further spray the participants. The game ends when there is no more water in the water buckets, or when the leader who is leading the game decides it is time to end the game.
