Entrance for Gallic village (Asterix and Obelix)

Entrance made of pallets with drawbridge for a Gallic village (e.g. in keeping with the Asterix and Obelix theme) or for a castle/fortress etc.

You can use different numbers of pallets depending on what you want or have available. We screwed the pallets together so that they hold well. For the drawbridge, we screwed two pallets together, but didn't attach them to the other pallets. To raise and lower it, we attached two ropes that are long enough to the top left and right. If necessary, a "slide stop" must be attached to the floor of the drawbridge so that the bridge does not slide backwards when it is pulled up.
