The Overturned Table

Materials needed: a table (coffee table; standard), bowls (at least one or more identical ones), or circles.

Turn a table upside down; participants divide into two teams, which line up next to each other.

Mark off a throwing distance; each participant takes turns throwing the bowl or ring once to hit one of the table's first two legs. If the throw is successful, one additional throw may be allowed. If the pot/hoop hits one of the last two legs of the table, the point is awarded to the opposing team. After 10 or more throws, the game ends and the winner is declared.
