You are the X!

A fun game to get to know each other

Game instructions

The group sits in a circle. One participant stands in the middle, approaches a person and says: "You are X." Instead of saying X, they use a name that they think does not fit ANYONE in the group. The person being asked answers: "No, I'm not X, my name is Y." Instead of Y, the person being asked gives their name. If the name X does match a person in the group, that person calls HALT and is allowed to go to the center.

(Variation: may choose a person who has to go to the middle)
