

YoungstarsWiki.org is an international internet platform for Christian children and youth ministries. The heartfelt wish of YoungstarsWiki.org is to collect all the great ideas that have already been developed by Christian children and youth staff and to make them available online as well as free of charge for the whole world.

Since July 2011, over 3,000 ideas have been written down and published. This large number of available articles attracts nearly 13'000 people each year.

Open position as project manager (20%)

Your profile

- You have experience in Christian children/youth ministry and in the non-profit sector.
- You speak English and if possible other languages like German.
- You like to work independently, trustworthy and with a hands-on mentality.
- You are a digital native, communicative and flexible.
- You think internationally and love contact with people.
- You are familiar with the field of marketing and communication.
- You identify with our vision.

Your tasks

- You are responsible for the promotion of YoungstarsWiki.org.
- You help with the development of our print media.
- You take care of our social media channels and develop them further.
- You have regular contact with our partners and expand our network.
- You plan and coordinate presentations as well as booths at events.
- You support the YoungstarsWiki.org association.

We offer

- A lot of freedom to bring in and implement your own ideas.
- A high degree of independence and flexible working.
- The chance to breathe international air and make contacts abroad.
- Insight into the working environment of an international mission organization.
- Occasional travel to other countries.
- Reasonable payment.

Are you interested?

Then contact us with your application documents (motivation letter, CV).

Send your questions or application to: info@youngstarswiki.org